1 THE CLERK: All rise. Please be
2 seated. This is Docket Number 5-cv-153. Damian
3 Renzello versus Michael Nelson. The Plaintiff is 4 present in the courtroom pro se. And the Defendant
5 does not appear.

6 The matter before the court is a
7 hearing on enforcement of an agreement and consent
8 (inaudible).

9 THE COURT: Is that you?

10 MR. RENZELLO: Yes, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: So Mr. Renzello, and the 12 gentleman with you is?

13 MR. RENZELLO: My friend Gordon. I
14 have requested the court for assistance in helping me
15 get through the case here.

16 THE COURT: Okay. As announced, this
17 is a hearing to enforce the agreement and also the 18 court order that was added May 16, 2007. The court
19 in a previous order required you, Mr. Renzello, to 20 somehow notify Mr. Nelson. I know that he has not 21 appeared, obviously, but that it's been difficult to 22 determine where he is.

23 But as I understand it, you mailed a
24 notice to his last known address and that letter did
25 not get returned.

1 MR. RENZELLO: That's correct, Your
2 Honor.

3 THE COURT: Correct? So based on that,
4 the court set up this hearing, and again, obviously,
5 Mr. Nelson has not appeared. So the court is 6 prepared to go ahead with enforcing the order and 7 agreement. The question is how.

8 And so I'll hear from you or hear from 9 your advisor, if you wish.

10 MR. RENZELLO: Uh --

11 THE COURT: When you speak to the court
12 you should -- it is our custom that you stand.

13 MR. RENZELLO: Yes, sir. Enforcing the 14 loss agreement is one thing, but since our last court
15 date back in 2007 Michael Nelson has been slandering
16 my name on the internet like you wouldn't believe.

17 THE COURT: Right.

18 MR. RENZELLO: It's just -- it's
19 unbelievable. I've put together these three books.
20 One copy for yourself, one copy for Mr. Nelson, and 21 one copy that I can work from. And if you read one
22 or two of these articles of 30 or 40 of them, you
23 would just -- you would be blown away. I had a
24 relationship with the Boston Bruins, and within two
25 years I had donated $45,000 worth of my work products

1 in exchange for marketing efforts.

2 One morning I got a call from Paul
3 Stewart, who was in charge of the Boston Bruins
4 Foundation, asking me who Mike Nelson was. He's been
5 calling and threatening Charlie Jacobs all morning
6 with lawsuits because he's doing business with me.
7 That's one scenario of many scenarios.

8 The American Inventor TV show, about
9 five years ago I had auditioned one of my products.
10 I got a call back. They flew me to LA, and when I
11 got to the auditions the producers were asking me, 12 "Who's Mike Nelson? He's been calling and 13 threatening us all morning."

14 So needless to say, with my great
15 invention, when I went in front of the judges, they 16 didn't even listen to me. They said no, no, no and 17 passed me on. That's number two incidences where 18 he's just attacked me. And I'm a layman. I don't 19 know how to protect myself. Coming to the court is 20 very -- it's just not my school.

21 THE COURT: Right. Well and the
22 problem is, frankly, locating him in order to do
23 anything about it. Even if you did locate him,
24 questionable I guess as to whether he would be --
25 whether he would comply with any orders, or if you

1 did get some sort of a judgment against him for
2 damages, whether he would not pay it, of course.

3 MR. RENZELLO: Well I know that --

4 THE COURT: (Inaudible).

5 MR. RENZELLO: I know I did a little
6 bit of research in my layman kind of ways. And I
7 looked up cyber harassment, and just cyber harassment
8 alone is like $25,000 per violation and up to five
9 years in prison. So I think that makes it criminal,
10 and I guess I would like to see maybe if the court
11 could look at it as a criminal case, and then take 12 the appropriate actions to find Mr. Nelson and let 13 him pay his consequences, for lack of better words.

14 THE COURT: Well, you know, I can't act
15 on my own to bring somebody in as a criminal. There
16 has to be some prosecution brought before the court.
17 In our court it's the U.S. Attorney. So the U.S.
18 Attorney's office in Vermont or elsewhere would have 19 to be the entity to bring any criminal charges.

20 MR. RENZELLO: I see.

21 THE COURT: Unfortunately for you. But
22 I can't act on my own.

23 MR. RENZELLO: I've gotcha.

24 THE COURT: So, you know, I understand
25 your frustration. The only thing that I can do, I

1 think, is to issue an order reciting the matters that 2 you've brought up here in your complaint, or not your
3 complaint, but your motion, as an example of the type
4 of behavior that is in violation of the order, and,
5 you know, issue an order saying that he has to comply
6 and has to cease from this activity. And perhaps 7 warning him that any further activity would be 8 subject to contempt. I can't hold him in contempt at 9 this point because there is certain procedures I have 10 to go through including having a hearing on a motion
11 for contempt.

12 Again, going through the whole process
13 of trying to notify him and get him here, and then if 14 there was a hearing held, deciding whether there was 15 any purpose in doing it. Again, even if I were to 16 hold him in contempt, for instance, he's not here. I
17 don't know what good that's going to do you.

18 Maybe by issuing an order that he has 19 violated it, and reciting the instances that you at 20 least enumerated in your motion, I suppose you might 21 be able to undergo the different sites that's -- he 22 is -- where he is --

23 MR. RENZELLO: Attacking me.

24 THE COURT: -- using, and, you know,
25 ask them.

1 MR. RENZELLO: Slandering.

2 THE COURT: Yeah.

3 MR. RENZELLO: I have copies of all
4 those.

5 THE COURT: Right. Well I'm not sure
6 to go through every one of those, but you know,
7 you've enumerated them -- some of them anyway in your
8 motion. I think there are six.

9 MR. RENZELLO: Nine of those.

10 THE COURT: Nine of them?

11 MR. RENZELLO: And those are -- I
12 didn't want to give you a topic or -- there is many,
13 many, many more --

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. RENZELLO: -- than those nine.

16 THE COURT: Those are just examples.

17 MR. RENZELLO: Those are just examples.

18 THE COURT: Right.

19 MR. RENZELLO: In fact, I have one
20 example here. And if you read just this one sheet,
21 you would understand my frustration.

22 THE COURT: Right. Well why don't you
23 make that an exhibit for this hearing. Okay?

24 MR. RENZELLO: How do I make that an
25 exhibit?

1 THE COURT: Just give it to Kathleen,
2 and she can mark it as an exhibit.

3 THE CLERK: (Inaudible). Do you want
4 me to make a copy?

5 THE COURT: So we will mark that just
6 as an exhibit. If you have a couple others, or you
7 want to add to those that you referred to here?

8 MR. RENZELLO: Sure.

9 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Your Honor,
10 would you have just a second to just briefly --

11 THE COURT: Sure.

12 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: (Inaudible).

13 THE COURT: Sure. These calls that
14 have been made to the different entities we talked 15 about --

16 MR. RENZELLO: Yeah.

17 THE COURT: -- I guess they've not been 18 able to trace the calls to figure out where he is.

19 MR. RENZELLO: Well I'm really -- I'm
20 not like that. I don't know who can trace the calls.

21 THE COURT: Yeah. So does this fellow
22 compete with you?

23 MR. RENZELLO: I believe he does. But
24 I can't prove it. I believe he's still marketing
25 rinks to other companies. But again, I don't know

1 how to find his name attached to it, because he's
2 obviously a very smart person.

3 THE COURT: I see.

4 MR. RENZELLO: Is that not
5 unbelievable, Your Honor?

6 THE COURT: Well obviously, yes. It's 7 amazing to me, frankly, that people can publish this 8 sort of thing on the internet and call it to the 9 attention of people who may not know you, for 10 instance, or know anything about your business.

11 So are you still in the same business?

12 MR. RENZELLO: I am. 19 years.
13 Building portable ice skating rings.

14 THE COURT: And how is the business
15 going?

16 MR. RENZELLO: Well it -- besides
17 Michael Nelson's interference, it's good. I've lost
18 a ton of business because of him. I've lost a lot
19 because of him, but my strength as an inventor has 20 kept me going forward. Every once in a while I come
21 across a situation that gives me a little bit of 22 strength. For example, Annie Leibovitz, you know,
23 the famous photographer?

24 THE COURT: Yes.

25 MR. RENZELLO: She just wrote me a very

1 nice letter, a heartfelt letter, thanking me for
2 helping her with her rink for the past seven or eight
3 years from the bottom of her heart. Thank you, you
4 know. And stuff like that gives me a little bit of 5 strength to keep going forward.

6 You know, Curt Schilling, from the
7 Boston Red Sox, I had sold him a Bambini and a nice
8 mower. I didn't make too much money on it. But 9 meeting people like that, it just kind of gives me
10 that strength to keep going forward.

11 THE COURT: Right.

12 MR. RENZELLO: It's been 19 years since
13 I first designed Porta-Rinx, and I've met a lot of 14 great people. And I set up a rink in Mexico City in 15 front of City Hall in Mexico City a few years ago
16 and, you know, just met some really great people.

17 THE COURT: Right.

18 MR. RENZELLO: It's not about making
19 money. It's about building a foundation for my 20 business. And for the past 10 years it's -- I don't 21 know how many calls I got from cities and towns,
22 because they are the majority of my business, they
23 are interested in my products, and then they go
24 online and research me. And as soon as you type in 25 Damian Renzello those slanderous comments, they come

1 up.

2 I had one of my customers call me back
3 asking me about those comments, and fortunately he 4 took the time to call me back.

5 THE COURT: Right.

6 MR. RENZELLO: And when I talked to
7 him, he understood, and they eventually bought a
8 rink, which is great, but that's one customer that 9 actually took the time to call.

10 THE COURT: Right.

11 MR. RENZELLO: I can only imagine how
12 many people have looked it up and then looked my name
13 up, and then they just wash their hands with it.

14 THE COURT: Somehow can you alert them
15 about this guy and the fact that he's, you know,
16 slandering you and --

17 MR. RENZELLO: I don't want to write
18 something on the internet that's going to bite me in,
19 you know, he's going to come back and say that I'm 20 writing stuff about him.

21 THE COURT: Yeah. Well I mean the --
22 warning them if they are -- I guess people find out
23 about your rinks from the internet?

24 MR. RENZELLO: Yeah. Word of mouth.
25 And -- you know, the name Porta-Rinx or my Porta-Rinx

1 ice skating rink.

2 THE COURT: Right.

3 MR. RENZELLO: If you typed in
4 Porta-Rinx, out of the top the first 10 hits, six or 5 seven of them are from Mike Nelson.

6 THE COURT: Really.

7 MR. RENZELLO: Oh, yeah. Oh, yeah. I
8 think number 1 is from Mike Nelson's slander. I mean
9 it's bad. It's bad. That's just two copies.

10 I've got another 15 pages here of other
11 slanderous comments. I mean I just -- I don't know
12 what to do.

13 THE COURT: Well I think based upon
14 what you've told me today, and I consider it to be 15 testimony, that I could make a finding that the 16 comments that are being made on the internet are 17 slanderous and untrue. That might be of assistance
18 in your -- again, trying to convince the --

19 MR. RENZELLO: People. Customers.

20 THE COURT: Well the customers, but
21 also the, you know, the -- I don't know how you can
22 deal with the internet. Whether you can bring this 23 sort of an order to Google and say, "Look this guy is 24 a --"

25 MR. RENZELLO: Torturing me.

1 THE COURT: Yeah. "And slanderous, and
2 you shouldn't be publishing stuff like that." I
3 don't know if there is a way to do that.

4 MR. RENZELLO: Right. Yeah. Imagine
5 -- (inaudible). You have pull. I don't have pull.

6 THE COURT: Right. Well --

7 MR. RENZELLO: There must be an
8 internet police?

9 THE COURT: Well as you say, there are
10 laws, criminal laws, that prohibit people from doing
11 certain things. I'm not that familiar with what they 12 are.

13 MR. RENZELLO: Yeah.

14 THE COURT: You might -- have you tried
15 to speak to the U.S. Attorney's office, for instance?

16 MR. RENZELLO: I have not.

17 THE COURT: That might be something you
18 might do. Let's get this order out, and then I would 19 suggest that you at least try it. Go -- try the U.S.
20 Attorney's office. Go to them and say, "Look, this 21 is my problem. Is there any way of getting any 22 assistance from the government?"

23 MR. RENZELLO: Sure. Sure. I tried
24 calling the State Police; local police.

25 THE COURT: Right.

1 MR. RENZELLO: But they just -- it's
2 new. Like you said.

3 THE COURT: (Inaudible). I think
4 whatever it was and are with these federal laws, and
5 again, the U.S. Attorney's office would be the agency
6 that would bring the charges.

7 MR. RENZELLO: Good information.

8 THE COURT: All right. Well again, I
9 am finding that Mr. Nelson has violated the agreement
10 and the order, and we will try and fashion something
11 that is appropriate for you.

12 Again, I can't include anything about
13 criminal charges. I can't include any at this point,
14 but I don't think about contempt or damages, but you
15 know, if it were to continue, then I'll put a warning
16 in there that any potential future conduct could very 17 well result in contempt or damages.

18 MR. RENZELLO: As far as the past ten
19 years, U.S. Attorney's office is where I want to go?

20 THE COURT: I can't -- is there any
21 indication that he's doing it recently?

22 MR. RENZELLO: Well I think I've got 23 dates as far back as 2014 of comments still coming on 24 the internet.

25 THE COURT: Really?

1 MR. RENZELLO: Since 2006, when I first
2 brought it to the court's attention, I've got dates
3 from 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010. I make the 4 copies. I make the copies. I have a book -- a box
5 at my shop this wide by this wide by double deep with 6 all the paperwork from the 10 or 12 years of just 7 wasting my time and my good positive energy in 8 dealing with this mess.

9 THE COURT: Do you have a copy of 10 something that occurred, you say, in 2014?

11 MR. RENZELLO: I sure do. The two 12 exhibits that I just gave you. I think that was 13 what? 2010?

14 THE COURT: This was 2007, and this is 15 2010.

16 MR. RENZELLO: Your Honor, these were
17 all in 2010 as well, but I can get that paperwork for 18 you.

19 THE COURT: Why don't you send us --
20 perhaps do it through the clerks's office, send us an 21 example of, or two, of something recent, like, 2014,
22 if you have it.

23 MR. RENZELLO: Sure. Most definitely.
24 Did you read that first exhibit there?

25 THE COURT: Yes.

1 MR. RENZELLO: Your Honor, can my
2 friend ask you a question?

3 THE COURT: Sure.

4 MR. BOCK: May it please the court,
5 Your Honor, for the record --

6 THE COURT: Yeah.

7 MR. BOCK: My name is Gordon Bock. G-O
8 -R-D-O-N. B-O-C-K.

9 THE COURT: Okay.

10 MR. BOCK: Again, I'm not an attorney.
11 It's been my privilege to know Damian for virtually
12 the entire existence of his Porta-Rinx company, some 13 close to 25 years.

14 THE COURT: Right.

15 MR. BOCK: And for the last decade or 16 so, as his friend, it's been my unfortunate
17 experience, at least vicariously, that, you know, see
18 and hear and really feel this intense and persistent
19 vituperation by this, if I may say, deranged
20 individual.

21 I'm wondering -- and until Mr. Renzello
22 ended up having counsel in this action for a number
23 of years, as you know --

24 THE COURT: Yes.

25 MR. BOCK: -- you know, I tried to help

1 him in the beginning. And subsequently, you know,
2 since his counsel left the case, with sorting through
3 the morass of all of this, I could be -- my
4 recollection could be faulty in the extreme.

5 It seems to me, and it could be wrong,
6 that somewhere in the inception of this case, again
7 it's been close to, I think, 10 years, right? Close
8 to 10. 9 years. I have the impression that way back
9 in the beginning your office got some help from 10 either the Marshals or the FBI or both when Mr.
11 Nelson was, you know, even back then, very hard to 12 find.

13 And whether my recollection is accurate
14 or not, I guess I'm wondering if it's possible, you
15 know, Mr. Nelson can run, but can he hide? If you
16 were somehow to enlist one or both of these agencies
17 that are also, like you, part of the federal 18 government, to try to find him. Would that -- at 19 least the Marshals maybe. Would that be appropriate
20 or inappropriate, Your Honor?

21 THE COURT: Well I think probably what
22 you're talking about, perhaps, and I don't have any
23 memory of this, but in trying to serve him any court
24 documents may be -- and it has to be an order that 25 may be served by a Marshal. But that's infrequent.

1 Certainly the FBI we don't -- I don't think we ever
2 got them involved. (Inaudible).

3 MR. RENZELLO: Back in Vermont Country
4 Store. You had an investigation there was -- it was 5 a Vermont Country Store against Nelson. Back in the 6 day; different case. You had an FBI agent --

7 THE COURT: (Inaudible) That's
8 stretching my memory, but go ahead.

9 MR. RENZELLO: I've actually got a copy
10 of that. The article that was in the paper.

11 THE COURT: Mine?

12 MR. RENZELLO: Yeah. You had had an
13 investigation put on him that came back that there
14 didn't appear to be a threat, and that was the end of 15 it.

16 MR. BOCK: In the instant case is it
17 possible, forget the FBI, is it at all possible
18 somehow to involve the Marshals? In terms of 19 actually locating this individual, this highly 20 elusive individual.

21 THE COURT: Right. I think the
22 Marshals would not, on their own, try to find him.
23 If you had an address for him that he could be served
24 with something, it's possible. But they don't go
25 out, again, they get involved in criminal matters.

1 But they serve papers based upon an address or a
2 presence of a person.

3 MR. BOCK: Sure. I was just thinking
4 it's easy to hide from Mr. Renzello with a lot of 5 resources, but it would be a lot harder to hide from 6 the U.S. Marshal.

7 THE COURT: I mean if you did find out
8 where he actually was, I think at some point --
9 wasn't he in Nevada or something?

10 MR. RENZELLO: Oh, yeah. Las Vegas.

11 MR. BOCK: We have been serving him at 12 a P.O. Box in Rhode Island.

13 THE COURT: Right.

14 MR. BOCK: And it's not coming back.

15 THE COURT: Right.

16 MR. BOCK: So inference is if someone
17 in his family is getting this stuff, and the 18 Defendant's aware of the motions, and even the fact
19 that there was going to be this hearing today. He's 20 well aware and maybe just chooses not to --

21 THE COURT: Not to come.

22 MR. BOCK: -- participate. You know,
23 he will continue his nefarious deeds in the worldwide
24 web.

25 THE COURT: Right.

1 MR. BOCK: Which you mentioned earlier,
2 what's that? Was it Twain? You know, a lie can get
3 its way around the world while the truth is putting 4 on his pants? Am I getting that quote correct; Your 5 Honor? I think it was Twain.

6 THE COURT: Maybe.

7 MR. BOCK: And you take the internet,
8 it's exponential. But you ask Mr. Renzello in terms
9 of how he could possibly put a disclaimer or try to 10 be out there preventing it, I believe it's virtually
11 -- I believe it's virtually impossible. When you
12 have someone who is as slick and savvy as the non-
13 participating Defendant, on matters pertaining to the 14 internet, I think you could forget about it, you
15 know. He knows how to -- there is a way he can
16 optimize, as he said, optimize these search engines
17 so that you can put your (inaudible) stuff right at 18 the top the way Mr. Renzello told you is happening,
19 and there is virtually nothing -- just asked Senator
20 Santorum, if you're familiar with that whole thing.
21 Former Senator Santorum, if you do a Google search of 22 his name, you get something extremely disgusting. And 23 he's been in -- since he first ran for president,
24 he's been unable to do a thing about that.

25 THE COURT: Right.

1 MR. BOCK: So I don't know if Mr.
2 Renzello or we can do much of anything to come back
3 to these screeds that the Defendant puts out there.
4 But again, as someone who has known Damian for, you
5 know, close to a quarter of a century, and has seen
6 him suffer through this for about a decade or so, it
7 just seems that something has to be done, you know,
8 you talk about an order, and that's a great thing.

9 THE COURT: Right.

10 MR. BOCK: Of course, enforcing it is a
11 different thing.

12 THE COURT: Right.

13 MR. BOCK: Finding in the first place
14 and enforcing it is a different thing. So that's 15 just my 10 cents.

16 THE COURT: You know, I agree. And I
17 don't know, frankly, what else to do except I can 18 suggest that maybe he try the U.S. Attorney's office,
19 see if they have any interest. Again, I don't know.
20 It seems to me there is some violation of criminal
21 law. But again, I'm not a person who makes that 22 determination.

23 MR. RENZELLO: Your Honor, can I give
24 you another exhibit?

25 THE COURT: Yeah. Sure. (Inaudible).

1 Right.

2 MR. RENZELLO: And shortly after
3 running the store, Mr. Nelson went on to the internet
4 blog with Popular Science and (inaudible).

5 THE COURT: Right.

6 MR. RENZELLO: Another example
7 (inaudible).

8 THE COURT: Example. Right. Okay.
9 Well, as I say, we will do as much as I can. And,
10 you know, if you ever find him, serve this order on 11 him, have it served on him. Any process server can 12 do it. It doesn't have to be a Marshal or anybody
13 else.

14 And then if he continues to do it then
15 certainly --

16 MR. RENZELLO: I'm afraid if I look for 17 him, then he's going to say that I'm stalking him.

18 THE COURT: Right.

19 MR. RENZELLO: I'm afraid to even type
20 his name into my phone to research other court cases
21 on him. Because for the fear of, you know --

22 THE COURT: Right.

23 MR. RENZELLO: I mean it's --

24 THE COURT: Well that's up to you, I
25 guess.

1 MR. RENZELLO: Well I think I'm -- I
2 think you've got all the information that you need
3 for now, and I think the U.S. Attorney's office is 4 probably the next step.

5 THE COURT: Give them a try.

6 MR. BOCK: Your Honor, one last thing.

7 THE COURT: Yes.

8 MR. BOCK: Because of the five-part
9 motion that is to be precipitated this year.

10 THE COURT: Yes.

11 MR. BOCK: A through E; right? I just
12 wanted to ask you about E. Which is that now that I
13 put myself out here, in public --

14 THE COURT: Are you sure you want to be 15 mentioned?

16 MR. BOCK: Well, first of all, if the 17 Defendant orders a transcript, I'm already mentioned;
18 right? Today's hearing; right? I'm out here.

19 THE COURT: If anybody wants it.

20 MR. BOCK: I'm more concerned about my
21 wife and my three young daughters. Me, I can handle
22 plenty. But I see the stuff of which the absent
23 Defendant is capable, and just from the standpoint of 24 my wife and three daughters, it makes me uneasy.

25 You know, I don't mind claiming to the

1 world that I'm this man's friend, and that I think
2 he's been wronged in the extreme, and that actually
3 the Defendant should be punished in every way
4 possible. But, you know, it's within the realm of 5 the court.

6 Having said that, I'm wondering if Your
7 Honor would put the umbrella, as it were, of, you
8 know, of the no contact that -- I believe that's --
9 that's the other thing in terms of -- Damian, wasn't 10 there some --

11 MR. RENZELLO: Last I checked.

12 MR. BOCK: Were the parties still not
13 supposed to have direct contact last I knew or is 14 that --

15 THE COURT: Yeah, I think --
16 (inaudible).

17 MR. BOCK: I would want to reinforce
18 that in terms of, you know, Mr. Renzello and Mr.
19 Nelson. Either way, if Your Honor could consider
20 opening the umbrella a little bit more and sticking
21 me and my family under there, I would be deeply
22 appreciative because I want to be able to be
23 supportive and do the right thing and try to help
24 Damian in any way I can. I'm a little concerned
25 about somebody -- compost hitting the ventilating

1 equipment in my direction, if you will, because this
2 guy does generate a lot of compost.

3 THE COURT: I don't think he knows
4 about you yet. Does he?

5 MR. BOCK: He will now.

6 THE COURT: Well I mean this is -- it's
7 a recorded hearing but it's only --

8 MR. BOCK: I don't think he has, you
9 know, until my addressing you today. He's pretty 10 savvy. I'm pretty sure he didn't come today. He'll 11 probably get a transcript. So here I am.

12 Again, I'm good with that, but more
13 from the standpoint for my wife and my three young 14 daughters. I just would like it to be clear -- and 15 again, we also know that this absent Defendant flouts
16 (inaudible) flouts orders, flouts confession, flouts
17 all kinds of things, but at least if it's on paper,
18 if Your Honor would consider that, that the same
19 protections being currently offered to the Plaintiff
20 extend over to me and my immediate family, I would be 21 most grateful.

22 THE COURT: Well again, I'm not sure
23 you want that to happen. (Inaudible) an order that 24 mentions your name. That (inaudible) is defined.
25 Transcript, he has to order it through the clerk's

1 office.

2 MR. BOCK: Right.

3 THE COURT: And have to pay for it to
4 have it printed and so forth. So I don't think he's 5 going to go that far.

6 MR. BOCK: Okay. So you'd rather just
7 --

8 THE COURT: If there is any evidence,
9 you know, in the future that he's retaliating somehow
10 against you, I would certainly reconsider that.

11 MR. BOCK: You want to hear about it.

12 THE COURT: Yeah. I don't think at 13 this point you would, frankly, want to have it --

14 MR. BOCK: I see your point. Thank
15 you, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Okay. So we will, in due
17 course, we will issue an order, and then, as I say,
18 you might want to (inaudible) for the U.S. Attorney's 19 office to see if they will help you out.

20 MR. RENZELLO: Thank you, Your Honor.
21 I appreciate your time.

22 THE COURT: Thank you.

23 THE CLERK: All rise.

24 (End of recorded proceeding).
